Catherine Young, Bumpkin Bears

Rupert is a charming creation by Catherine Young of Bumpkin Bears, a British-born artist who lives in Belgium. Measuring 38cm

(15") high, Rupert is sewn from dense Schulte mohair in ginger, cinnamon and blonde, and features extensive scissor sculpting and shading on his face. His topaz glass eyes have added whites underneath, while his paw pads have cute needle sculpted toes and additional shading. Another new one-of-a-kind is Choco, sewn from chocolate and caramel batik Schulte mohair, with hand painted glass eyes, scissor sculpting features and needle sculpted and shaded toes. Although Rupert has already been adopted, you can commission a similar design via email at catherine@bumpkinbears.com and see more of her designs at www.bumpkinbears.com
